

Dear Friends:

This set of recommendations is remarkable and a great contribution with wide implications.

First, it demonstrates more than most presentations of Catholic Social Teachings that very practical reforms can come from taking such teachings seriously in structuring rules and practices in business and finance.

On a lesser note, I was delighted to see the flow of thinking in the paper about how to implement Catholic Social Teachings lead to recommendations which are nearly the same as, or are very close to, past arguments and proposals of the Caux Round Table, or could be easily supported by the Caux Round Table.

I would like permission to circulate this paper to our global network.

Warm regards,

Steve
