PRO PONTIFICE

ANNOUNCEMENT
OF THE COMPETITION FOR THE ASSIGNMENT OF THE
“ECONOMY AND SOCIETY” INTERNATIONAL PRIZE
THIRD EDITION - YEAR 2017

COMPETITION

As part of its work to promote knowledge of the Social Doctrine of the Catholic Church, the Centesimus Annus Pro Pontifice Foundation is offering the following awards:

- An International “Economy and Society” Prize worth €30.000 for publications in the economic and social fields
- A prize with an overall worth of €20.000 for a work in journalism (print or other media).

This is a biannual prize and will next be awarded in 2017.

Publication criteria for the international Award

The prize will be awarded for material published since 2007. The winning work should be notable for its original contribution which explains and gives an in-depth analysis or application of the Church’s Social Doctrine and be of proven doctrinal worth and exceptional quality. The aim of the Centesimus Annus – Pro Pontifice Foundation is to reward contributions which can be readily understood by the general public while at the same time expressing a strongly Christian commitment to economic and social development. The jury will consider papers published in French, English, Italian, Portuguese, Spanish and German. Should there be more than one winner, then the prize will be shared among them.

Criteria for the Journalism Award

This prize may be shared between one or more works of journalism which deal with the Social Doctrine of the Catholic Church. Consideration will be given to works of exceptional quality published in well known national or international media after 1 January, 2014 in English, French, Italian, Portuguese, Spanish and German.

Candidates

Publications answering to these criteria should be sent by 15 April, 2016 to the following address:
