

Giovanni Marseguerra (Ph.D. in Economics, London School of Economics) is Full Professor of Political Economy at the Catholic University of Milan, Italy, where he currently serves a Vice Rector for Academic programs and President of the University Quality Assurance Board. He is also Director of both the Local Development Observatory (OpTer) and the Teaching and Learning Lab (TeLe Lab).

He is the Coordinator of the Scientific Committee of the Vatican Foundation Centesimus Annus – Pro Pontifice and a Corresponding Member of the Istituto Lombardo Accademia di Scienze e Lettere, Milan. He is a Member of the Scientific Committee of the Alcide De Gasperi Foundation, Rome, and an Associate Editor of Economia Politica - Journal of Analytical and Institutional Economics, Springer Verlag, Berlin, and il Mulino, Bologna.

His research interests relate to the theory of the firm, focusing on such topics as SMEs and innovation, investments under uncertainty, financial decisions, corporate governance and family firms. He is the author and editor of several international books and has published his work in national and international journals such as Oxford Economic Papers, Spatial Economic Analysis, International Journal of the Economics of Business, Review of Quantitative Finance and Accounting, Chaos, Solitons & Fractals, Industry and Innovation, Innovation: Management, Policy and Practice, National Accounting Review, Eurasian Business Review, Economia politica – Journal of Analytical and Institutional Economics, Journal of Property Research, Global & Local Economic Review, Asia-Pacific Financial Markets, International Review of Economics. He is the author of the book Corporate Financial Decisions and Market Value - Studies on Dividend Policy, Price Volatility, and Ownership Structure, Springer, Berlin and New York, 1998.

A further important line of his research refers to the economic analysis of the link between society and institutions in the perspective of Catholic Social Teaching (CST) and it is primarily devoted to social capital, subsidiarity, solidarity, sustainability and human development. On such topics, he is the editor or co-editor of 12 books of the Centesimus Annus - Pro Pontifice Foundation series.

He has served as a board member of international conferences and meetings.

He presented his research in lectures, conferences and seminars in various Universities and in a number of institutions - national and international - among which are worth mentioning: The Hanns Seidel Foundation and the Wilfried Martens Centre for European Studies, Bruxelles; Centesimus Annus – Pro Pontifice Foundation, Vatican City; Istituto Lombardo Accademia Scienze e Lettere, Milano; Fondazione De Gasperi, Roma; Meeting di Rimini; Associazione Bancaria Italiana, Roma; Fondazione CEUR, Bologna; Camera di Commercio di Milano; Fondazione San Marino Cassa di Risparmio; Fondazione Credito Valtellinese; Associazione San Michele Valore Impresa; Intergruppo Parlamentare per la Sussidiarietà, Roma; CISL Milano; Compagnia delle Opere.

In 2017 he received the International Economics Award from the Institute of International Economics, Chamber of Commerce of Genoa, Italy, for his many contributions “to the characteristics of the Italian productive system, to the various types innovation in SMEs and to the link between innovation and form of financing, as well as to the theory of investment under uncertainty”, and for his paper “Public Funding and Innovation Strategies. Evidence from Italian SMEs” (joint with Laura Barbieri, Daniela Bragoli e Flavia Cortelezzi) he was awarded the 2020 Best Paper Prize of the International Journal of the Economics of Business.