

Short Bio

Dr Christina Kheng

Dr Christina Kheng is from Singapore and teaches theology and pastoral leadership at various institutions including the East Asian Pastoral Institute, the Loyola School of Theology, and the Pontifical Gregorian University, as well as in ecclesial on-going formation programs. She was a member of the Methodology Commission for the Synod on Synodality 2021-2024 and served as a non-voting expert (facilitator) at the Synod General Assembly in Rome. Currently, she is in the Federation of Asian Bishops' Conferences' Commission for Synodality. Christina has a PhD in Theology from the Australian Catholic University, a Masters in Public Administration from the John F. Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University, and a Bachelor of Sciences (Honors) from the National University of Singapore. Her research focuses on theological foundations for inter-disciplinary method in church-society dialogue.

